THE EGYPTIAN

ON THE INSIDE
Student ASIU
Southern Society
Southern SportsGreek Week
At Southern
April 18-25

Greek men and women of Southern will celebrate the eleventh annual Greek Week on campus April 18 to 25. A fraternity track meet, picnic, Greek Sing, Beer Garden party, and selection of the outstanding Greek man and woman highlight the week of activities.

The purposes of Greek Week, according to chairman Ray Ginnery of Delta Chi, are to evaluate the Greeks in respect to campus and community activities, improve public relations, and to have some good old-fashioned fun.

The activities will begin with a track meet on Saturday afternoon, April 18. Fraternity men will compete for the coveted "All Sports" trophy.

Greek Sing, one of the biggest events of the week, will be held on the 19th from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium. Fraternities and sororities will compete for first and second place trophies. Each sorority and fraternity will sing two songs, to be judged by members of the SIU faculty. Judges have not yet been chosen.

Last year's first place winners were Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and Delta Zeta sorority. The 1957 winners were Sigma Sigma Sigma and Theta Xi. The Greek Sing is open to the public.

Friday, April 20, will feature a Beer Garden party from 8:30 to 10:30 p. m.

The following evening will be the time of the Serrade. The Greek women will be serenaded by the fraternities.

After a dinner at Engle's on Tuesday, Greek officers will conduct a workshop where such problems as rush week and housing will be the subjects of discussion.

The Greek Week picnic is scheduled for 4 p. m. on Friday, April 24. Greek Week will then reach a grand climax on Saturday, which features conventions, work projects, and the Thompson Point dance.

Debaters Black, Sanders
Go To Regional Tourney

Two SIU debaters have talked their way to the "world series" of intercollegiate debating. Paul Black, freshman from Calumet City, and sophomores Sanders and Sanders defeated debate teams from Notre Dame, Wayne University, Case Institute, Xavier University, John Carroll College, the University of Cincinnati, and Kent State University.

Disputing regional tournaments are held to select the 34 outstanding debate teams in the nation to compete at West Point for the national college debate championship.

Last year's national championship debaters from Northwestern University will defend their title when the nation's best debaters convene on the banks of the Hudson April 22.

This is the second time that an SIU debate team has qualified for the West Point tournament. Two years ago, Southern was represented in the national contest by Richard Riecke and Joseph Selemant.

In addition to qualifying for the national competition, the team of Black and Sanders won the Illinois Intercollegiate Debate championship at Lake Forest College March 14. SIU was the only undefeated team in the tournament, winning all of their six rounds.

To win the championship trophy, Black and Sanders won decisions over the debate teams of Wheaton, Northwestern, Greenville, Augustana, Illinois Normal, and Bradley.

Sanders was named the outstanding individual debater in the state tournament. During spring vacation, five members of the SIU debate squad participated in the national forensics tournament sponsored by Phi Kappa Delta at Bowling Green University in Ohio.

Fourteen top spots were based on the squad's record in all four contests—original oratory, discussion, debate and extemporaneous speaking.

The Little Grassy campus started from nothing four years ago and has grown rapidly, Loneragan said.

Eventually, facilities at Little Grassy for camping, recreation, and programs for the handicapped will accommodate 3,000 campers, he said.

"Effort is being made to maintain a wildlife situation as much as possible. It is to be hiking area with all the departments on campus represented. Then we'll have something that no other college in the country has, so far as I know," Loneragan said.

Speaking of plans now in progress, Loneragan said that Thompson Lake will be open to swimmers this spring if a normal amount of rain falls during April.

Construction of the University Center, begun Friday, March 13, will inconvenience students somewhat, he said.

A fence has been erected around the construction site and the parking area has been moved to a new location just south of the construction. The parking area is for staff and faculty, according to Loneragan.

Concerning the architecture of the new buildings, Loneragan said, "There is no one style to be used. The only theme to run through all the buildings will be the use of brick. Academic buildings will make use of plan brick, more colorful brick will be used in housing and recreation buildings."

Loneragan Tells Council

SIU Campus Of The Future

By Clarence Pratt
Staff Reporter

Campus residences for 8,000 students, new buildings for schools of engineering, medicine, physical education and communications, and a new stadium are some of the things being planned for the SIU campus of the future.

University Landscape Architect John F. Loneragan explained these plans and some of the problems of the rapidly expanding SIU campus at the Student Council meeting on March 12.

Also in the plans are a greatly expanded Little Grassy campus, improved campus traffic conditions and a possible bus service to campus.

Concerning immediate problems, Loneragan said, "Because of money problems, sidewalks and lighting necessarily lag behind the construction of buildings."

"Construction of new buildings means that nearby sidewalks must often be taken up or cluttered by the inconvenience of the student."

"The need for particular sidewalks and parking lots is greatly influenced by each new building which may change the directions of campus traffic."

He indicated that the University is trying to plan a long way ahead in erecting each new building and temporary inconvenience as such a plan is unavoidable.

Loneragan told the Council, "I'm very happy to have this chance to hear your complaints about existing conditions and question about the proposed campus. We planners have a lack of contact with student complaints."

The future campus as explained by Loneragan, will be nearly a square mile in area. Morris Library is seen as the center of the campus.

An industrial education building is planned south of the present journalism barracks. The new stadium will be located southeast of Thompson Lake near Highway 51.

Southeast of Thompson Woods will be the new physical education and military training building.

Loneragan said the physical education and School of Education buildings are high on the priority list. The building for communications is also near the top, he said.

Loneragan stressed that any priority list is flexible and is frequently revised as new plans develop.

The Little Grassy campus started from nothing four years ago and has grown rapidly, Loneragan said.

Eventually, facilities at Little Grassy for camping, recreation, and programs for the handicapped will accommodate 3,000 campers, he said.

Fred Bertram, SIU Senior,
Dies In Auto Accident

Fred Bertram became the third SIU fatality of 1959 when he was killed in an automobile accident two and one-half miles west of McLeansboro March 19.

The 22-year-old student apparently fell asleep while driving to his home in Carmi, and was thrown from his car when it overturned, breaking his neck. According to the coroner, death was instantaneous.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bertram of Carmi, he was a senior music major, specializing in religious music and education. He was director of music at the First Baptist Church in Marion, and had previously been director of Central Baptist Church in Centralia and First Baptist church at Benton.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Carmi, Sunday, March 22. The Rev. Carl Jacobs of the Carmi church, and the Rev. Les Swope, pastor of the Marion Baptist Church, officiated.

Interment was in the Carmi Garden of Memories, with the Campbell Funeral Home in charge.

Bertram had taken his fiancée, Miss Marilyn Donati, to her home in Johnston City, leaving Carbondale about 11:15 a. m. Thursday. He then followed Miss Donati and her mother to West Frankfort, where the ladies turned off for St. Louis, and Bertram started towards Carmi on Rt. 14.

According to his roommates, he had stayed up all night Wednesday night studying for a final examination in physics, and had slept very little on Tuesday night.

His car crashed off an embankment about 2:30 p. m., throwing him from the car. The coroner said it was possible that he never awoke, and was killed before leaving the car.

The car was demolished, except for the front end. Most of the windows were broken, all four doors, and top and trunk were crushed.

Bertram was traveling east on Rt. 14, and his car crashed to the opposite side of the highway, and the two left wheels were off the highway for about 100 yards before it went off the embankment.

Authorities said the car probably turned over once, and passed over the top of Bertram's body without touching him. The car hit on its wheels in a cornfield, and turned around facing the highway. Bertram's body was found about 15 feet off the highway by a woman who heard the crash from her house.

A member of the Phi Mu Alpha fraternity, he portrayed Jud Fry in the SIU music department's presentation of "Oklahoma!" last summer, and also appeared in "La Boheme."

He would have graduated in June, and his engagement to Miss Donati was to have been announced last week.

Bertram had been accepted the week before his death to the Southwestern Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth, Texas, to continue his study in religious music education.

The funeral at Carmi was one of the largest ever held in that city. Over 700 friends of Bertram were seen at the funeral home.

Six Carmi residents were pallbearers, they were—Don King, Joe Dill and Orvan Clark—SIU students. The other pallbearers were Elvis Hughes, Archie Houser and Jim Hoffman.

Fred Bertram

The following obituary was prepared for the service:

"Fred Allen Bertram was born July 8, 1936, in Windy, Ky., and was called home to be with God, March 19, 1959, at the age of 22 years, 8 months and 11 days.

"When a small child, he, with his family, moved to Mt. Vernon, where he lived for 13 years. He received his elementary education and first two years of high school in the Mt. Vernon school system, moving to Carmi in 1952. He continued his education in Carmi Township High School, graduating in the class of 1954.

"Fred made his public profession of faith in God as a child and upon entering SIU, where he was a senior, dedicated his life to Christian service and was studying religious music and education.

"He was director of music in the first Baptist Church of Marion, where he was affiliated as a member. He had previously served the Central City Baptist Church in Centralia and the First Baptist Church in Benton as music director.

"Fred had chosen Miss Marilyn Donati of Johnston City to be his life companion and they were making plans to wed in August, when his graduation from SIU, and planned to further their study of religious music and education together at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, Texas, this fall.

"Surviving are his father, Walter; mother, Elsie; and sister, Carolyn; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bertram of Sunnybrook, Ky., and several aunts and uncles. He was preceded in death by his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Frost of Albany, Ky.

"The Christian influence he had shown with old and young alike will be greatly missed, but he has gone to a greater work in the Kingdom of Heaven."

BRUINSMA, MUELLER ELECTED TO OFFICE

Two members of the SIU music department faculty have been elected to offices in the Music Teachers National Association.

Dr. Henry Bruinsma, chairman, was named chairman of the East Central Division Committee on Music in Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Robert Mueller, associate professor, was elected chairman of the Division's Theory and Composition Section.

Orville Alexander, chairman of the government department, was presented with the Egyptian Faculty Award Thursday night at the annual J-Day banquet.

Alexander was chosen by the International Relations Club for the honor. A different organization is requested to choose a person each year.

In other activity, Marilyn Tipton was chosen "Miss Print" of 1959, a new award this year. Members of the Journalism Students Assn. voted on the girls of the Journalism department, and Miss Tipton was chosen.

Marilyn Kreschick and Bob Howland were presented with the Advertising Club Award, given annually to outstanding male and female graduates in advertising.

Winners of the JSA award and the best news stories of the year had not been selected on the evening of the banquet.

The Journalism Students Assn. chooses one person each year who has done the most for the department, and the decision is based on academic average and need.

Obelisk and Egyptian designs were presented with engraved pen and calendar sets. Recipients were Joe Blewett, Richard Darby, Joe Dill, Tom Sheehan, Ron Jacoby, Carl Martz, Ron Vaske, Marian McBride and R. O. Rathgeber.

Speaker for the evening was Howe Morgan, editor of the Sports News-Plainsdealer, at the banquet held at Engel's Restaurant. A journalist with years of experience, Morgan is past president of the Journalism Students Assn.

Following the banquet, the talk by Morgan and presentation of awards, entertainment was provided by Beta Omicron and Mickey Sparks. Dancing ended the evening.

Member of the Illinois Press Assn. The faculty service award to Alexander was based on the basis of service to students, popularity with faculty members, and professional standing. This year marks the fifth presentation, and Dean of Men L. Clark Davis was last year's winner.

Miss Tipton, a sophomore journalism major from East St. Louis, is senior editor on the Egyptian. She is president of Delta Zeta sorority, and a member of the Journalism Students Assn. and Advertising Club.

Miss Kreschick, junior from Pana, and Howland, senior from Wheaton, will go to St. Louis along with winners from 12 other colleges. Miss Kreschick and Howland are both advertising salesmen for the Egyptian.

J-Day, 1959, began Thursday morning at Freshman Convocation with Mable Norris Reese gave the Lovejoy Lecture. Editor of the Mount Dona (Florida) Topic, Mrs. Reese was the first recipient of the Elijah Parrish Lovejoy Award for Courage in Journalism, presented by the SIU Department of Journalism.

Following the banquet, the talk by Morgan and presentation of awards, entertainment was provided by Beta Omicron and Mickey Sparks. Dancing ended the evening.

The Editors' Opinions

A Warning Note

The recent death of a 22-year-old SIU senior calls our attention to something which has never been stressed at Southern—that of staying up all night to study for examinations.

According to friends of Fred Bennett, he had stayed up for almost two complete nights studying for final examinations. In the words of his mother, "Fred knew better than to do that."

But do students know better? Pressure is placed on students to bear down during final exam week, because a passing or failing grade may hinge on the outcome of the test, this pressure is not made known verbally, but it is still there.

Of course, this is not the complete fault of the University or faculty. Final examinations are undoubtedly necessary, one of the facts of college life.

Although college is important, it is not as important as life. When an impairment of health is concerned, students should realize that college takes second place. Staying awake all night to study for examinations places a burden on the body, and reflexes are much slower.

The pressure will not lessen concerning emphasis on final exams, but students can defeat this pressure by keeping up with school work and putting their health ahead of a grade.

A fresh grave and a mourning family is the result of one such incident.

Spring At SIU

Spring arrived at Southern Tuesday.

The warmest day of the year brought out the sport shirts and shorts, and gave a lousy indication of the spring weather to be expected in Southern Illinois. The trees are still bare, but they are beginning to bud, and green grass is trying to sprout through the determined ground.

Spring seems to bring out the best in people, and SIU students are certainly no different. After a long winter, the first breath of spring sends people scampering for the lake amid laughter and high spirits.

Spring does another thing at Southern—grades sometimes go down. For some, the unusual happens, and the grades either get higher or stay the same. The campus organizations have spring formal, parties are held at the lake, and in general life in college becomes more informal. There are many events during the spring quarter which provide entertainment, cultural as well as strictly social, for the Southern set. Following the Miss Southern Acres and Miss Thompson Point contests and dances, the fraternities and sororities take over for a week for the traditional Greek Week.

The Spring Festival, one of the bigger events of the year, will be held the first week in May this year. Including a dance, midday, and variety show, the Miss Southern contest features some of the prettiest girls on campus.

So, you're in for a good quarter, and aside from the social activities, the baseball, tennis and track teams provide enjoyment for the sports enthusiasts.

However, there is still one factor, which somewhat dampens the rosy spirit of the virgin spring—grades will be given.

New Staff—New Ideas

Whenever a new staff assumes Egyptian positions, their enthusiasm and journalistic idealism usually instigate fresh, different approaches and ideas.

The present staff, making their official debut today, is no exception to this traditional role of student newspaper. But, with changes come problems and it often takes time to overcome the obstacles which might and do arise. This staff, as previous Egyptian staffs, must face the transition period before the ultimate goals can be reached.

One of the goals of the staff is to extend campus coverage of SIU news and events. To facilitate reaching this goal, a courteous cooperative attitude will exist toward students, faculty, University officials and student government groups.

More student features will enlighten the readers and give them a personal tie to their newspaper. Also, since Southern's student body is interested in news outside the immediate realm, national news will be presented when it has a connection with the University.

For the benefit of readers, news from official sources, such as job interview schedules, will be printed.

Since pounding a beat and taking time to overcome the obstacles which might and do arise. This staff, as previous Egyptian staffs, must face the transition period before the ultimate goals can be reached.

We, the staff, have set our goals and are exerting our efforts to present to you, our readers and fellow students, the best newspaper possible. The problems will arise, but we are prepared to meet them with the best of our abilities.

Prayer Objects Feature Museum

The SIU Museum will exhibit prayer arrows and other ceremonial objects used by the Tephah Indians of the mountains of southern Durango, Mexico, for the next few months.

Many of the objects were given to SIU Anthropologist Carroll Riley and two graduate students who spent last summer among the Tephahs. They are a herding and agricultural "mountain people" who lead a rather isolated existence. Their towns are little more than governmental and ceremonial centers which are largely deserted except during festivals honoring Catholic saints or celebrating pagan rites, Riley says.

The Museum is open to visitors from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily Monday through Friday until noon on Saturday, and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Staton Receives Grant-In-Aid At California

Walter Staton, assistant professor of English at SIU, has been awarded a grant-in-aid to study at the Huntington Library in San Marino, Calif., this summer.

The library, endowed by Financier Henry E. Huntington, is noted for its collections of 18th century art and books on the history of the American south-west and 16th century English literature. Staton's collection is ranked second to only one in the U.S.—the Folger Library in Washington.

Under the Huntington grant, Staton will pursue his studies of English and neo-Latin poetry of the Renaissance. "Thomas Watson's Influence on English Ovidian Poets," a research paper by Staton, will appear in the April issue of Studies in the Renaissance.

Praises Campus

Efforts by the University Architect to avoid a 'period-piece campus' are a good deal. The lack of such planning is evident on Southern's old campus. On this section of SIU's campus, and on other college campuses, buildings have been constructed with an eye only to the current style. Such construction may be encouraged by a particular president or other influential person. As administrations change, so tastes change. The end result may be a campus with a hodgepodge of styles that may have been in good taste in the past but are now outdated.

Such bizarre mixtures and buildings which present appearances vastly different from their actual function exist on many college campuses—one being at Central Illinois. SIU students can thank both architect and President Morris that ours will not become a 'period-piece'.

Spring Changes

With spring in the air, everything is growing and changing. I feel confident that Southern and I, the Egyptian, will also change. It is the opinion of this student and many of my colleagues that this change must be for the better.

On the whole, last year's paper was fairly good. However, we, the students who are not well acquainted with journalism and newspaper management, keep our fingers crossed. We feel there could be more originality on the part of the editors.

Speaking from a layman's position, I would like to offer a few suggestions. More pictures and overall campus coverage would, it seems, be possible. I am sure that the new staff has already made appropriate plans for these items.

Of course, we cannot expect drastic changes until the new staff is settled and accustomed to its job.

As mentioned before, spring is here, and changes will be made. We are with you! Jack Leathers (Editor's note: The "new" staff does plan some changes; some will be immediate, some as time goes by. But we hope the paper will be what the students want, and the only way we can find out is by letters and comments.)

Gus

Bode Says

Gus wishes to inform the Journalism Students Association that he is greatly insulted because he did not receive an award at their Awards Banquet. After all, he does contribute a great deal to the journalistic profession.

Gus doesn't mind to see the new student center being constructed, but he hates to go looking for a new parking lot.

Gus is getting prepared for the oncoming heavy contest of his cleaning his glasses and gathering up his handkerchiefs to help catch all the tears that always flow at such events.

With the new student loans available, Gus wonders if he can get some money to buy a new bicycle. He lost his in the mud by the Agriculture building.

Marine Officers Visit SIU

The U. S. Marine Corps officer selection team will visit SIU campus Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Captain H. E. Cottrell has announced.

The officer selection team will be in the Student Union to discuss Marine officer training programs with interested students. Men in this program are granted military deferments and have no military requirements during the academic year, according to Cottrell, Officer Selection Officer for the St. Louis area.

Officer training for undergraduates is conducted during two six-week summer periods. Seniors are eligible for the Officer Candidate Course and Aviation Officer Candidate Course after graduation.

Men commissioned under either program may go directly into flight training or training in other specialized fields, Capt. Cottrell said.

SENATE APPROVES BILL TO HELP SOUTHERN

The state Senate has approved an emergency appropriation bill for Southern amount to $700,000.

The bill, passed in the Senate with a vote of 42-1, must be signed by Gov. William G. Stanton before it can become effective.

According to the bill, $500,000 will be appropriated from general revenue and $200,000 from university income for Southern's purposes.

Econ Professor Visits Southern

Dr. George W. Bell, secretary of the American Economic Assn., and for 33 years professor of economics at Northwestern University, is a distinguished visiting professor of economics at SIU during the spring term.

The 68-year-old expert on banking and business cycles spent 1958 as a member of the U. S. State Department's so-called "prestige economics team," conducting business seminars in the principal cities of India. He also served as a consultant to the International Cooperation Administration.

A graduate of Colorado University (which awarded him an honorary degree in 1955), with a doctorate from Harvard, Dr. Bell joined the Northwestern faculty in 1922 after teaching four years at Williams College. During his lengthy career at Northwestern he served as director of the School of Commerce, head of the department of finance, acting dean of the graduate school and chairman of the economics department.

Bell has been president of the Economists' National Conference on Monetary Policy since 1953 and is a Fellow of the Royal Economic Society.

THE TRUE AND TYPICAL CASE OF CHATSWORTH OSCEOLA

You all know, of course, that every engineering senior is receiving fabulous offers from dozens of corporations, but do you know just how fabulous these offers are? Do you have any idea how widely the corporations are competing? Let me cite for you the true and typical case of Chatsworth Osceola, a true and typical senior.

Chatsworth, walking across the M.I.T. campus one day last week, was hailed by a man sitting in a yellow convertible studded with precious green stones. "Hello," said the man, "I am Norwalk T. Sigafos of the Sigafos Bearing and Bushing Company. Do you like this car?"

"Yeah, hey," said Chatsworth.

"It's yours," said Sigafos.

"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.

"Do you like Philip Morris?" said Sigafos.

"Of course," said Chatsworth.

"Here is a pack," said Sigafos. "And a new pack will be delivered to you at twelve-minute intervals every day as long as you shall live."

"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.

"Does your wife like Philip Morris?" said Sigafos.

"She would," said Chatsworth, "but I'm not married."

"Do you want to be?" said Sigafos.

"What American boy doesn't?" said Chatsworth.

Sigafos pressed a button on the dashboard of his convertible and the trunk opened up and out came a nubile maiden with golden hair, flawless features, a perfect disposition, and the appendix already removed. "This is Laurel Geduldig," said Sigafos. "Would you like to marry her?"

"Is her appendix out?" said Chatsworth.

"Yes," said Sigafos.

"Okay, hey," said Chatsworth.

"Congratulations," said Sigafos. "And for the happy bride, a pack of Philip Morris every twelve minutes for the rest of her life."

"Thanks, hey," said Laurel.

"Now then," said Sigafos to Chatsworth, "let's get down to business. My company will start you at $45,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 26. When you start work, we will give you a three-story home made of bronze, complete with a French Provincial swimming pool. We will provide siltier service for all your children until they are safely through puberty. We will keep your teeth in good repair, and also the teeth of your wife and children until the third generation. We will send your dentist a pack of Philip Morris every twelve minutes as long as he shall live. . . Now, son, I want you to think carefully about this offer. Meanwhile, here is ten thousand dollars in small, unmarked bills, which places you under no obligation whatsoever."

"It certainly seems like a fair offer," said Chatsworth. "But there is something you should know. I am not an engineer. In fact, I don't go to M.I.T. at all. I am a poetry major at Harvard. I just came over here on a bird walk."

"Oh," said Sigafos.

"I guess I don't get to keep the money and the convertible and Laurel now, do I?" said Chatsworth.

"Of course you do," said Sigafos. "And if you'd like the job, my offer still stands."

Quantity Before Quality Not Too Much Emphasis On Enrollment - Reiss

"I don't agree with some people that Southern is putting too much emphasis on enrollment," said Bill Reiss, the first "Student at SIU" for the spring quarter.

"You have to get quantity before you can get quality," the 21-year-old senior said. "The educational level and recognition is coming along very fast, and will continue to grow at an increasing rate until they begin looking for quality."

"Then the enrollment will slacken off."

"One thing I would like to see improved is the Student Government set-up. They seem to have trouble among themselves, and the Student Council takes so long to get anything done."

Bill is from Lebanon, majoring in agriculture. He is specializing in animal industries, and minoring in chemistry.

After graduation, he will go to graduate school here and will study nutrition.

After receiving his master's degree, Reiss plans to go into industry or farming.

As usual, the conversation switched to the SIU parking controversy, and Bill says that although freshmen should not have cars, sophomores, juniors and seniors should.

"Freshmen don't really need cars," the brown-haired senior said, "because it might hurt their class work if they run around too much. But after the first year, I see no reason not to allow cars."

There seems to be no reason for lack of parking facilities either, because if there isn't enough room on campus, they could buy parking lots off-campus.

"As far as not making good grades because of owning a car, good students will make their grades whether they have a car or not."

Bill was non-committal concerning Southern co-eds, only saying that they are "pretty and friendly, and a good selection of different types from around the country—a typical campus group."

University's Grow

A member of the Block and Bridle Club and the Agriculture Club, Bill says the University will continue to grow rapidly. The engineering school which SIU has been attempting to garner for the past few years should help, Bill says.

"After the Korean War, there was a great need for an education," he said. "There were more people going to college, and more emphasis was put on getting a college education."

"Along with the expansion caused by this increase, the social life of college has increased importance. The organization of social life is not too good here, however, because it puts a lot of pressure on students to attend when they should be studying."

"I had always heard the rumor of 'party school' for Southern before I came here, but soon after arriving I changed my mind. It isn't any different than any other school."

Some Bad Students

As for the crimes on campus last year, Reiss said that a small percentage of students who just did not like college were responsible, more than likely. He says entrance to Southern should be more strict, and then maybe such would not happen.

The interview ended with an amusing note as Bill told of his most embarrassing moment, and really embarrassing at that.

"I was in the chem lab one day," he chuckled, "and spilled some acid on the front of my pants, which ate a hole in them."

Egyptian Needs More Reporters

Students interested in reporting for the Egyptian should contact Joe Dill or Bob Hays at the Egyptian office or call extension 266.

All students are eligible to report, and those who have had past experience are especially needed. It is emphasized that reporters need not be journalism majors, as is indicated by the number of non-journalism reporters on the staff at this time.

British Dean Teaches Here

Dr. W. David Evans, dean of the Faculty of Pure Science and head of the geology department at England's University of Nottingham, began his teaching assignment as a visiting professor of geology at SIU Monday.

Dr. Evans is a specialist on coal and its biological effects, and has received the Lyell Award of the Geological Society of London, one of the highest awards obtainable by a British geologist.

He is a member of the Regional Survey Board of the British Ministry of Fuel and Power and a consultant to the British Electricity Authority, to the British Petroleum Company, to the Government of Belgium on dust diseases, and to a number of British chemical and steel companies.

He formerly directed the field training courses of the Geological Society of London and was a geologist to the Geological Survey of Great Britain.

Included in his teaching program will be a college credit

Science Gets $11,840 Grant

A National Science Foundation award of $11,840 has been granted SIU for the support of a summer science training program for high school students.

SIU is one of 105 universities and research organizations through the county which received Foundation support, according to Chalmers Gross, University High School Chemistry instructor, who will be in charge of the program.

Gross directed a similar experimental SIU preview course that attracted 64 students from area high schools last summer.

Another $3,935 has been added to the grant by the University, which will also pay 40 percent of the salaries of the instructors, plus the salaries of research supervisors and half the salary of the program director.

Members of the SIU Science departments will be instructed for the program.

Under the program, slated to include seven weekly course sessions beginning here June 22, as many as 300 high school juniors and seniors may study college level subjects under SIU faculty members. The schedule will include microbiology, geology, geography, botany, zoology, physiology, chemistry, physics and health science, the most intensive course lineup of any Illinois school.

One Week Sessions

Two one-week sessions of course on the geology of coal. The class will meet during the spring quarter for 90 minutes each Monday and Wednesday evening, beginning at 6 p. m. in Room 174, Agriculture Building.

chemistry, physics and microbiology will be scheduled during summer, while the rest of the courses will be offered for one week only.

Two subjects will be offered simultaneously each week with classes in session from 9 a.m. to noon with the exception of microbiology, an afternoon course. Gross said this would enable commuting students, who will make up most of the registration, to get back home for at least some afternoon vacation time.

Under the grant, non-commuting students could receive up to $20 per week subsistence and a four cents-per-mile travel allowance. Resident students will live in Thompson Point residence halls Gross said. Commuters will be eligible for some travel allowance and $1 per day for noon lunch.

A key feature of Southern's program, Gross said, will be the selection of two to six top students in each course to spend the week following that course assisting department staff assistants in actual research work involving the subject he has just covered in class. For this reason, student applicants will be advised not to register for subjects scheduled on consecutive weeks.

In announcing the $1,600,000 nationwide project, the Foundation described its aims as "to encourage the scientific interests of secondary school students of high ability through college-level programs designed especially for them."

Program Solidly Endorsed

Last summer's experimental program, entirely supported by SIU at no cost to students, was solidly endorsed by participants who were polled afterwards.

The Ralph Flanagan Orchestra played for the Greek Week dance last year.

Whenever liberty is threatened, "getting together" has always been a tradition of free men.

NATO (the North Atlantic Treaty Organization) is a mighty "get-together" of 15 free nations... 15 nations who have pooled their resources to provide military forces strong enough to stop an aggressor. With a single voice they say: "An attack upon any one of us is an attack upon all."

And since the formation of NATO ten years ago, not an inch of territory in the Atlantic area has been lost.

In 10 years it's all too easy to forget how much this simple statement means. Yet many can never forget the fear-filled days between the end of World War II and the emergence of NATO. "Peace," they called it, but a peace when the Soviets overran nearly 600,000 square miles of territory... when an unexpected knock at the door might mean the Reds were moving into still another country...

NATO today is more than a powerful military alliance. It is a living shield of free men working together to bring progress and prosperity into the lives of all. Because NATO stands guard over your freedom, your country, your very life... because some of your sons are under NATO command, this tenth anniversary is a good time to pledge your support afresh.

WHAT NATO HAS ACHIEVED

1. Stopped Soviet aggression in Western Europe by building up military forces under unified command.
2. Spread the cost of defense against Communism. NATO has enabled us to combine our vital resources and share our obligations with 14 allies.
3. Secure behind the NATO shield, we and 450 million other free men in the Atlantic community are progressing toward greater political, economic and social well-being.

Salukis Host Illini In Twin-Bill Tomorrow

Finish Spring Tour With Fine 6-2 Mark

By Ron Jascher Sports Editor

A handful of hard-throwing, green pitchers, backed by a line-up of hard hitting veterans will be what baseball coach Glenn "Abie" Martin will take against the University of Illinois tomorrow as the Salukis open their regular season with a twin bill.

The Salukis, defending IAC Conference champs, just completed their most successful spring tour in history. The Salukis, who seldom get in shape before they make the tour because of the less-than-great southern Illinois weather, chalked up a 6-2 mark along with winning the tournament at Barksdale AFB.

SIU 9, Illinois 5

The Illini, defeated by the Salukis last season 9-5, will field a veteran squad. Coach Lee Elbrach's squad features only two non-lettermen on the starting nine.

Bob Klaus, all Big Ten shortstop for the past two years, will pace the Illini offensive attack. Bob pounded opposing hurlers at a .394 clip last season. Other top sluggers in the Illini line-up will probably be Jim Jurevich, team leader in home runs and runs scored last year, and Russ Martin, son of Saluki coach Abie Martin, who swatted at a .380 clip during the last campaign. Russ is currently hitting over the .400 mark this season.

SIU coach Abie Martin seems fairly well satisfied with the teams showing on the southern swing. "Of course, a team never looks as good as the coach wishes they would," added Martin.

Pitching Puzzle

The jigsaw puzzle of finding a starting contingent out of the record 33 hurlers that showed up for original workouts, was partly solved on the tour through the south. The crew was cut to eight, and since then Gary Williams, who according to Martin had a lot of potential, ineligible. Impressive earned run averages were racked up by some of the rookie hurlers. Larry Tucker showed a brilliant 0-2, Harry Gurely, 1-19, Jim Woods, 1-00, and Ken Napier, 1-29. Charles Sumon, football quarterback candidate, led the Saluki hurlers in victories with two against no losses. Sutton however, had an ERA of 12.8 runs per game.

Other hurlers showing promise on the trip were Sam Wright (1-0) with an ERA of 7.71 and Roland Tarrant (0-1) with an ERA of 9.0.

"Ichy" Jones, all-conference second sacker, led the Salukis attack with a blazing 1-40 mark. "Ichy" collected 12 hits in 26 times at bat along with scoring 12 runs. Fred Loesckam also fared very well in the southern climate with 12 hits in 28 times at the dish for a .429 mark. Other top marks were Richard Dillinger, all-conference first baseman, (.407) and Ken Mon-schein, (.360).

HIT .332

Southern as a team batted a robust .332 with 90 hits in 271 at bats. The Salukis also scored 80 runs in the eight games. The season was held to 36 runs and a meager .174 batting mark.

The Martinmen began the trip by dropping a 1-0 decision to Southwest Louisiana. Louisiana scored their only tally in the bottom of the fifth on a single, a sacrifice, infield out and a big triple. Southern however, came back the next day to take two from Southwest, 12-9 and 9-2. A big six run inning in each game led up to the victories.

Southern then moved to LSU and walked off with a 11-6 count. Two four run innings and a 3 for 4 day by Loesckam wrapped up the win.

Win 24-4

Southern really began to pound the ball on the next two days. McNeese State fell to Martin and his crew by a 13 to 3 count. J. W. Sanders' homer and Schiebel's 3 for 4 paced SIU. The following day in a tourney at Barksdale AFB, the Salukis hit everything but the jet planes as they pounded out a 24 to 4 win. Southern collected 20 hits and scored 6 runs in the first, 2 in the second, 2 in the third, 3 in the fourth and 7 in the fifth.

The Salukis split two other contests losing to Illinois Normal 7-4 and beating Northern Illinois by a similar count.

Another problem confronting Martin's 13th baseball season is the loss of Walt Westbrook, 1957 letterwinner from Hillsboro who was slated for center-field this spring. Westbrook was drafted and reported on March 30.

"Abie" has revamped his line-up and put captain Roger Buyan, the regular third baseman for the past two years, in the right field slot. Fred Loesckam will probably move to left. Ken Mon-schein, a forgotten man last season, has been moved into the lineup at short.

Gurley To Start

Harry Gurley has been named by Martin as a probable starter in one of the games tomorrow but a second starter is still in doubt.

After this weekend with the Illini, Southern will host the Leathernecks of Western Illinois for three games next weekend—providing old man weather doesn't decide to make with the rain all week.

Studs Win IM Crown

The Studs climaxed their undefeated season by winning the intramural cage tournament championship at the end of last quarter.

Studs took the title by tripping Felt's Hall 3rd Floor, 69-15. Felt's trailed 39-20 at the quarter.

Fred Loesckam was high for Studs, with 20 points. Wally Westbrook had 13, and Carl Henson and Harland Scheibel contributed 12 apiece. Jerry Thomas scored 13 points for Felt's.

Studs made 29 field goals and 11 free throws in the game. They committed 14 personal fouls. Felt's made 19 field goals and 7 free throws. They fouled 12 times.

Studs was the Off-Campus League's representative to the play-offs. Felt's was the Men's Residence League winner. Sigma Pi, the Fraternity League winner, finished third in the tournament.

Rumpel Elected Captain Of Swim Squad

One of Southern's most colorful athletes, Norbert Rumpel, national 100-yard breaststroke champion, has been elected captain of Southern's 1959-60 swimming team.

Rumpel, a freshman from Schweinfurt, Germany, sped to National Collegiate and American records in the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke events to lead the Salukis to a 6-2 dual record and the Interstate Conference championship.

In the qualifying heats at the conference meet March 6, Rumpel swam the 100 in 1:04.0, breaking the old NCAA standard of 1:05.0 and the American record of 1:04.2. He duplicated the time in the finals of the event.

The 25-year-old Bavarian also bettered the 200 mark four times in his first collegiate season. His best clocking over the course was 2:21.6 (old mark 2:23.4) against St. Louis University. He will compete April 2-4 in the National AAU meet at New Haven, Conn.

Rumpel, unanimous choice of his teammates, is the second freshman in a row to be named to captain an SIU swimming team. He replaces Bob Steele, Chicago sophomore.

Rumpel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rumpel, Markt, Schweinfurt. He is a business administration major at Southern.

Tour Through South

Vacation Over; Netmen Ready For Action, Face Illinois Normal In Match Tomorrow

All tanned and ready to go to work, the Saluki Tennis squad opens their regular season against Illinois Normal's Redbirds tomorrow when the Salukis travel to Kenyon College at Columbus, Ohio. Southern will also play Ohio State on the same day. Other top notch teams on the schedule include Indiana, Iowa, Bradley, Wisconsin, Vanderbilt, Mississippi, Air Force Academy and Notre Dame.

Action over the vacation went like this:

On the 23 of March SIU's netmen opened the tour at Tusculoo, Alabama with a rousing 9-0 victory over the University of Alabama. Jim Jarrett, Jerry Budzelek, Marvin Cohen, Ron Underwood, Dick King and Arnie Cabrera all won their singles matches. LeFevre's athletes also took all three doubles matches.

The next match was against the University of Minnesota on the morning of the 24th. The Salukis won the first four singles and then followed up with two victories in the doubles matches to chalk up a 6-3 slate.

The same afternoon the dogs were pounded by a top-notch squad from Florida State University, 7-15. Jerry Budzelek was the only singles winner. One doubles match was called a draw because of darkness.

The following day, Southern met Florida's other representative the University of Florida, and found them just as tough. Southern lost all six singles matches, but managed to salvage two doubles for the final count of 7-2.

Emory University, of Atlanta, Georgia, fell to the Salukis on the next day by a stunning 9-0 count. SIU won all six singles and all three doubles contests.

The third defeat of the southern sweep came at the hands of the University of Georgia. Marvin Cohen and Arnie Cabrera won their singles matches and Budzelek and King won a doubles contest. Georgia won 5-2-3.

Tennessee was the last stop of the trip for the Salukis and they made it a good one, beating the boys from down south, 6-3. Southern won all singles but one. Arnie Cabrera was defeated.

Jesse Owens Featured At Coaching Clinic

Jesse Owens, all-time U. S. and Olympic track star, will conduct track sessions April 3 at SIU's eleventh annual spring coaching clinic.

Owens and Fred Lindstrom, ex-major league and baseball coach at Northwestern University, will headline the one-day clinic along with SIU coaches Leif P. (Doc) Lingle, Glenn (Abe) Martin and James Wilkinson.

Now assigned to the Division of Community Services of the Illinois Youth Commission, Owens began his fabulous track career in 1928 at a Cleveland junior high school. He set world records for junior high athletes with a high jump of six feet and a broad jump of 22-11 1/4.

State Championships During his high school days, he won all major track events around Cleveland, including the state championship three consecutive years. At one national interscholastic meet his senior year, Owens set a world high school mark in the 220-yard dash with a time of :20.7, and tied the world record for the 100-yard dash with a :09.4.

At Ohio State Owens set world marks in the 60-meter and 60-yard dashes, and he became the only track and field athlete in history to set three world records and tie a fourth in a single track meet. In one day he established world standards in the 220 (20.2), the 220 low hurdles (22.6), the broad jump (26-8 1/4 which still stands), and tied the 100 (:09.4).

At the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, Owens gained international distinction by winning individual titles in the 100-meters, 200-meters, and broad jump, and running on the winning relay team.

With the Youth Commission since 1955, Owens conducts athletic clinics and appears before civic youth groups in his capacity as sports specialist.

Fred Lindstrom, ex-third base star for the New York Giants, will highlight baseball talks April 3 at the eleventh annual spring sports coaching clinic.

One of the youngest players to sign a major league contract, Lindstrom joined the Giants in 1932 at the age of 16. After a year with the Giants' Toledo farm club, he returned to New York where he was a fixture at the "hot corner" for 10 years.

He compiled a lifetime batting average of .320 and in 1930 he hit .381, the second highest mark for a right handed hitter in the history of the National League. Lindstrom also played in the 1924 and 1935 World Series and was named by manager John McGraw as one of the 10 greatest players he ever saw.

Following his playing career, Lindstrom managed minor league clubs in Knoxville and Fort Smith of the Southern League. He became head baseball coach at Northwestern in 1949, and led the Wildcats to the Big Ten championship in 1957.

Rumpel Leads Outstanding Swimmers To NAAU Finals

Five swimmers will represent SIU this weekend (April 2-4) at the National AAU meet in New Haven, Conn.

Norbert Rumpel, freshman from Germany who is one of the top-ranking breaststrokers in the nation, will compete in the 220- and 100-yard breaststroke events; Walt Rogers, freshman from Landover Hills, Md., will swim the individual medley and 440-yard freestyle; Clyde Epperson, freshman from Miami, Fla. will enter the sprints, and Captain Bob Steele, sophomore from Chicago will enter the backstroke.

The fifth Saluki entrant is Paul Wachsdoerfer, junior from Genoa, Italy, a transfer from North Carolina who will enter the sprints. He was ineligible for collegiate competition last year but will be allowed to swim in the AAU. He will be eligible for the SIU team next fall.

U. S. Breaststroke Marks Rumpel, who has times of 1:04.0 in the 100 breaststroke and 2:21.6 in the 200 breaststroke (both times are better than existing American and NCAA marks), is considered the Saluki's top choice to win a first, according to Coach Ralph Casey. Rogers' best time in the 200 individual medley is 2:14.6 which set a new Interstate Conference record this year. Steele is IAC backstroke champ with a time of 1:01.6 in the 100 and 2:16.9 in the 200. Epperson owns the 50 freestyle record with :23.8 and the 100 mark of :55.5.

This past year Southern posted a 6-2 dual record and a first place finish in the conference.

Spring Grid Drills Begin

Calvin Piccone, newly appointed head football coach, will be greeted by some 60 football candidates next Monday when spring drills open at SIU.

Piccone, named to the head coaching position in February after the resignation of Al Kralw, will go into the 20-day spring season without a starting fullback in camp. The veteran backfield of Cecil Hart, Bill Norwood and Carver Shannon (each on the All - Interstate Conference first team) and Ramee Lewis is slated for graduation this June.

With winter term eligibility losses of Amos Bullocks, Chicago, and Lane Jenkins, Lake Charles, La., the number of returning letterman backs is cut to four: Tom Binn, Thayer, Don Miller, Cain, Frank Harrington, Evansville, Ind., and Jan Jansco, Johnston City.

The most pressing need is for a quarterback. Ron Winter, Carmi, junior and Charles Sutton, freshman from Penns Grove, N. J., are front-running prospects to fill Norwood's shoes. Sutton, however, will miss spring football because of baseball duties.

On the line, the Salukis appear set for another banner season. Only two lettermen, Cen-

Grapplers Finish

Finest Season

In SIU History

The Saluki wrestlers closed the 1958-59 season by performing well at four final tournaments. Jim Bledsoe, Herman Ayres and Marion Rushing each won championships in the NAAU meet at DeKalb on March 20-21. Southern scored 52 points to take the second behind title winner Mankato, who had a 28 in team tournament. Lee Grubbs scored a second and Houston Antwine a third for SIU at DeKalb.

During this two-day period, Southern's Gordon Secker took second place in the Central AAU Tournament, which is the nation's biggest meet. Larry Simpson and Jack Windsor were eliminated from this tournament by default. Simpson was forced out of action because of an upset stomach, while Windsor was unable to continue after suffering a nose injury.

Ayres and Rushing each compiled a 1-1 record the following week in the National Tournament at Iowa City. Bledsoe and Frankenberg both lost their first matches.

"The season was the most successful in my seven years at Southern," exclaimed Coach Jim Wilkinson.

The Saluki grapplers won all nine of their dual meets to extend their string to 21 straight over the past two seasons. The team also won both the Wheaton and the IAC tournaments.

Also at the same time was the Ozark Tourney at St. Louis. Rich Irvin, Dick Frankenberg, Stan Bergreiter, Gordon Secker, Woodie Zitter, and Izzy Ramos won titles at this meet. Frankenberg also won an award for the most valuable wrestler in the tourney.

"The season was the most successful in my seven years at Southern," exclaimed Coach Jim Wilkinson.

The Saluki grapplers won all nine of their dual meets to extend their string to 21 straight over the past two seasons. The team also won both the Wheaton and the IAC tournaments.

'MOST VALUABLE'

Seymour Bryson, Saluki captain from Quincy, has been chosen as the "Most Valuable" for the season just over. Bryson, a senior, has won the award three times in his brilliant four-year career.

SAWAWH ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT

Anna Marie Voelker was elected president at Sawawh Women's Residence Hall during the last meeting of Winter term. She will serve as president for the remainder of the year.

Kathleen O'Dell resigned from the office at this meeting also. Other resignations included Bill McMillan, social chairman and Karen Holt, reporter. Miss Mary and Miss Holt will be leaving Sawawh at the end of the year.

Phyllis DeWeese was appointed reporter by the newly elected officers.

DELTA ZETA'S HOLD ANNUAL ROSE BALL

Saturday, April 4, is the date for the annual Rose Ball of Delta Zeta. Music for the dance will be held at Thompson Point. The band will be furnished by the band of Archie Griffin.

Highlighting the formal affair will be the choosing of the "DZ Man." This honor is given by the members of the sorority each year. Dick Holliday, Tau Kappa Epsilon, was "DZ Man" last year. Sunday will find the girls and their dates at Giant City as they finish off the weekend with a picnic, following the custom of the year.

Judge Kay Tipton traveled to Leavenworth during vacation. Many of the members stayed in Carbondale through Saturday after finals in order to attend the wedding of past-president Janet Bradley to Jim Payne, Theta Xi. The couple are living here in Carbondale while they finish school.

By Royer, social chairman this year, is student teaching this year at Carbondale Community High School and West Frankfort.

WOODY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The newly elected officers at Woody Hall take office this term with a project already in sight, the annual formal. Carolyn Carson, sophomore from Pekin, has been elected president of Woody. Largest women's residence hall at Southern.

A design major, Miss Carson was Woody vice-president for 1988-89. She succeeds Janet Mang, junior from Granite City.

Other new officers are: Carol Fazio of Chicago, vice-president; Carlene Laws of Clinton, judicial chairman; and Patricia Cruse, secretary, from O'Fallon. Other officers are Rita Moll, social chairman, and Sandy Schmitt, treasurer. Miss Moll hails from Prairie du Rocher and Miss Schmitt is from Troy.

Plans have been made for an installation dinner on a Sunday of this term.

SIG TAU'S REMODEL TELEVISION LOUNGE

Spring brings a new look at the house of Sigma Tau Gamma to the men who reside there. The lounge, the new accommodations, provide more adequate space for viewing, and the old TV room is now a trophy and study lounge.

Quite a few members of the house traveled over spring vacation. Dick Cain, John Albromovich, Bob Stoudt, R. T. Sullivan, Tom Lelli, Tony Massa, Tom Honsbury and Larry Whitehead traveled to Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Richard Denton and Joe Christo went to New Orleans.

John Taylor, Bob Keis, Ed Foster and Ed Buffum flew to California to participate in the National Gymnastics Meet. Ed Foster and Bob Keis placed third and seventh respectively.

Allan Tucker, Len Kalakian and Don Genovese were formally pledged to the fraternity at the end of Winter term.

Other athletic honors have recently been given to members of the group. Richard Irvin, president of the pledge class, was voted outstanding wrestler of the Oskit AAU. Ken Pontikes took third in the small school National Wrestling Tournament.

Movie Review

"Tables" Merges As Cinema Flop

By Bill Christie

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, seemingly, is an organization in the know, thought so much of "Separate Tables," that it is kept under the film a raft of Oscar nominations. Here a nomination, there a nomination seems to be the cry with the picture. Despite this heap of nominations, don't be surprised if you aren't impressed with the picture at all. You won't be alone in that respect.

Contrary to the expert's opinions, "Tables" is a celluloid loser. For one thing, it is an amalgamation of two Broadway plays (written by Tennessee Williams) and the merger on the screen is anything but harmonious. Hecht - Hill - Lancaster, which favored cinema by giving it a champion in "Marty" in 1955, has fallen short of the mark in this latest attempt. And what makes the failure worse, from a dollars-and-cents angle, is that the movie wasted some of the finest theatrical talent between here and Buckingham Palace.

Among the Americans paid for services in "Tables" are Rita Hayworth, Deborah Kerr, Burt Lancaster and David Niven. English talent in the movie is provided by Wendy Hillier, Gladys Cooper, Cathleen Nesbitt and Felix Aylmer.

Niven, who actually is a native of Scotland, has been named for the best actor award. Miss Kerr, in playing the role of a spinster daughter who is told how to do everything except breathe by a domineering mother, is being considered for a best actress citation.

A supporting actress nomination has been given to Miss Hillier, who portrays the frustrated daughter of Lancaster, an ex-matrimonial mate of Miss Hayworth.

The picture, which also is in the running for an Oscar, concerns the problems of several tenants of a low-rate English hotel. Lancaster is a down-and-out American writer, who likes his beer and skittles and a n a within a gap of straggling his former wife, Miss Hayworth; and who seems only slightly interested in his betrothed Miss Hillier.

Niven is a retired soldier who talks a good war and convinces Miss Kerr that he was a Major hero while in the service. Miss Kerr has been under mother's wrinkled thumb so long that she doesn't know what outside companionship is like, and her novel experience with Niven is shattering when she discovers that he is not only a phony, but also a pervert of sorts on the side.

Thrown in, for good confusion, are a pair of young lovers, who he is set on studying toward a medicine degree and she who is set on trying the wedding knot, no holds barred.

In the conventional Hollywood end, Miss Kerr tells mother to buzz along, and reunites with Niven. Miss Hayworth blinks her eyes long enough to convince Lancaster that she is worth chasing. The young lovers float off in a cloud, Miss Hillier, minus her fiancé, resigns herself to running the boarding house, probably wondering what the next run of roomers will bring. The ending should bring, if nothing else, relief to the viewer. Director Delbert Mann has not prevented the film from dragging like an anemic crocodile. There are too few good lines, the likes of which normally flow freely from Messrs. Lancaster and Niven. The moral seems to be, Misery loves company, and it can find solace with some of its own.

Niven, who appears to be the best of the laggards, could win an Academy Award. For that matter, he could "Separate Tables," since both have received nominations. But if they do, how can the motion picture industry, in all honesty, chat to its public "Movies are better than ever?"

Music Student Sings On TV

Bob Green, junior music major, shared the television spotlight recently on the Ed Wilson Talent Show, KSD-TV, St. Louis. Green lives in Berkeley, and appeared along with other local talent of the St. Louis area.

A baritone, Green has had a part in several musical events on campus, including a leading role in the summer's production of "Oklahoma!" He is also scheduled to sing at one of the spring meetings of the Southern Alumni Assn.

SIU talent appears frequently on the Breakfast Hour over KFSV TV, Cape Girardeau. Normally, the show is held on Thursday mornings at 7, and features student talent.

Occasionally, staff and faculty of the University are invited to be on the show, discussing not only University affairs and events, but subjects on which the particular persons are experts.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA HOLDS INITIATION

Southern's chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, held its winter quarter initiation on Thursday, March 14. The men initiated were Sam Cagle, Jerry Rappaport, Charles Anderson, Wallace Pulliam, Dale Daniel, Bill Hubel, and Don Morgan.

Plans are moving along very rapidly for the coming Alpha Phi Omega's Ugly Man Contest and spring festival. Many tours will be lead by the group in the future as organizations have asked for its services along this line.

The annual Alpha Phi Omega horseback trip, which will be taken through the foothills of the Ozarks, is being planned for spring quarter.

Suzanne Puntney, an East St. Louis native, who is majoring in education, a sophomore.

Suzanne Smith, freshman from Taylorville, majoring in Liberal Arts and Sciences; Sherry Sully, Greenfield education sophomore; and Pat Viehman, Mt. Carmel sophomore, majoring in education.

The list concludes with Karen Wernsing, Raymond sophomore majoring in home economics; Mary Edith Westburn, Anna freshman majoring in home economics; and Sharon Zalders, a Liberal Arts and Sciences major from Collinsville, a freshman.

The retiring queen, Judy Sipes, will crown the queen during the coronation dance. The Phil Norman band will provide the dance music.

Miss Sipes, an Effingham native, was sponsored last year by TP 11, second floor. The attendees last year were Mary Ruth Newlin, Cecilia Norris, Jo Ann Lennon and Jay Rasmussen.

The students will observe the 15 contestants as they model in formal and bathing suits. After the votes have been counted, the five finalists will be announced, and the new queen will be crowned the following night.

Committes this year are Tim Bennett and Tom Buchanan, who will be in charge of the dance and contest, respectively.

Omer Bader is in charge of the

KAPPA OMIACRON PHI INSTALLS OFFICERS

Alpha Kappa Omega officers at Kappa Omicron Phi held their installation of officers on Wednesday, March 4. Kappa Omicron Phi is the professional women's fraternity in home economics.

President for the new year is Susan Beyer, Oskit offices are Rosalie Stein, first vice president; Betty Galeski, second vice president; Pat Chester, corresponding secretary; Oleidia Hall, recording secretary; and Emma Roe the treasurer.

Karen Wernsing is keeper of archives; Bernida Pryor, guard; and Barbara Taylor Lynch, distaff reporter.

dance band committee; Karen Wernsing, refreshments; Cecilia Norris, decorations; Mary Ann Thies, bids; and Mimi Goody, guests, chaperones and registration.

Contest Committee chairmen are Joe Brooks, judging and voting; Mary Ruth Newlin, registration of candidates; Ron Bartels, physical facilities; Bonnie Turner, gifts and flowers; Lynn Adams and Fran Revelle publicity; and Chris Lazo, program.

Each floor of the Thompson Point dorms submitted candidates.

The coronation dance will conflict with the Miss Southern Acres dance, which will be in session at the LyMar Hotel in Herrin. Six finalists are contesting for the 1959 Southern Acres crown, and the winner will be announced at the dance.

Southern Acres finalists: Connie McGinnis, Alice French, Cecilia Norris, Helen Smith, Barry Jo Wood and Mary Lou Biggs, met at a banquet Wednesday night, and the selection was made. However, as is the custom at Southern, the identity is being kept secret until the dance.

Retiring queen Barbara Larkin will crown the 1959 queen.

Alumni Meet For Spring

Alumni Association is busily scheduling spring meetings in many counties of Illinois. The first meeting was March 26, and they will continue at various times until April 27.

Counties included in the meetings are Perry, Saline, Springfield, Williamson, White, Franklin, Macoupin, Wayne, and Madison.

Several of SIU's own faculty members and students are featured on the programs of these annual meetings. The Saline County meeting is to be held in Harrisburg, and will have as speaker Kenneth R. Miller.

Miller, a native of Auburn, Maine, came to Southern as Administrative Assistant to the President of SIU. He is Director of the Little Grassy Lake campus and Executive Director of the SIU Foundation.

On the same program will be Delores Dolans and Robert Green, music majors. They had the lead parts in the play, "Oklahoma," when presented at Southern. This meeting is on April 3.

Dr. Ralph Micklen, chairman of the speech department, will be the speaker at the White County in Norris City and the Franklin County meeting at West Frankfort. The two student volunteers will also furnish entertainment at this meeting.

Speaker at the Macomb County meeting will be Dr. I. Clark Davis, Dean of Men. Guests at this meeting, which will be held in Benld, are parents of students now enrolled at Southern.

Parents of present students are also the guests at the Saline County and White County meetings.

Chairman of the Department of Educational Administration and Supervision, Dr. Arthur E. Lean, will be the guest speaker in Fairfield at the Wayne County meeting. Last summer, Dr. Lean toured the Soviet Union and studied the educational systems and way of life in that country.

Dr. Harold W. See, Executive dean of the SIU Residence Center, will speak to one meeting in Alton. This Macomb County meeting will hear Dr. See talk on the new SIU campus Alumni.

Several SIU students will provide entertainment at these meetings.
